City of Austin enters into 5 year contract with Informa Systems

San Antonio, TX, July 2014 - Informa Systems, Inc., a world recognized leader in law enforcement training, tracking and reporting, announced today that the City of Austin has entered into a 5 year contract with Informa Systems, Inc. to provide InformaOne to the City. This is part of a long term agreement to ensure that the City has the ability to deliver online learning to their law enforcement officers.

The system will track and manage all of the training and learning within the agency and will also provide information to the state report system. The City is now managing its training records as well as developing and delivering online learning with the InformaOne system, a web-based, unified, flexible training management system.

Informa Systems adds the City of Austin to its portfolio of law enforcement client agencies. Significantly, the City of Austin has entered into a long term agreement with Informa Systems enabling the City of Austin to deliver online learning to over 5,000 officers.

InformaOne delivers a highly automated and secure tracking and reporting systems at an affordable cost. Law enforcement professionals and training academies understand the necessity and benefits of a full array of training management functionality - including documents, courses, certification and records and retention management - on one platform. This unified approach yields a much greater return on investment (ROI). InformaOne makes it possible to consolidate all documents and training records into a single and flexible online repository.
